Antioch Plans bang-up July 4 celebration

Once again Antioch Parks and Recreation will be holding a gala celebration for the 4th of July. This year it's a double celebration because of Antioch's 90th birthday.

The exciting day will start at 12:30 p.m., on Sunday, July 4, with an enormous parade that will start at Antioch Community High School and march to William Park on Rte. 83.

The rest of the day's festivities will be held at the park. There will be all types of food and drink booths all day plus entertainment.

At 2 p.m. the dedication of the newly constructed pavillion will take place, followed by an afternoon with the Step and Shuffle Band, leading into the Miss Antioch Pageant which begins at 7 p.m.

The day will end with a large fireworks display that will start at dusk. Anyone wishing more information on the day please call Antioch Parks and Recreation at (312)395-2160.

Olesky to face traffic violation

Jerry Olesky, 36, Antioch, is slated to appear in Lake County Court on July 8 for a hearing on charges of disobeying a stop sign in connection with a two-car accident that claimed the life of a Great Lakes sailor, William Duncan III, 20, Shippensburg, Pa.

The fatal accident occurred at midnight, on Saturday, June 12, at the intersection of Rte. 173 and Delaney Rd.

According to a witness at the scene of the accident, the vehicle driven by Gerald Swaggert, 20, also stationed at Great Lakes Naval Station, in which Duncan was a passenger, was struck broadside by another car driven by Olesky, who was travelling at a high rate of speed, when he failed to stop for a traffic sign at the intersection.

Olesky, who was on his way home to Antioch from work in Glenview, claims he does not remember the accident.

Duncan was pronounced dead at the scene and Swaggert and Olesky were taken to St. Therese Hospital, in Waukegan.

According to a representative of the hospital, Olesky was still in the hospital in good condition, with abdomen and chest injuries at press time and Swaggert, who suffered multiple trauma, was transferred to Great Lakes Naval Hospital on June 17, when he was released from intensive care.

Set Gannon trial date for July 19

July 9 is the pre-trial date, and July 19 the trial date, set for Patrick Gannon, 39, Grass Lake, to face charges in a Lake County courtroom of sexually assaulting seven pre-teen girls in his own home.

Gannon allegedly committed the assaults when the girls were staying over night with his daughter. Gannon reportedly played "games" with the girls during which he would take indecent liberties with them.

Gannon submitted quietly to the arrest which took place in March, after Lake County sheriff's deputies had spent a week interviewing the parents of the children. The sheriff's department was alerted to the alleged crimes when a 16-year-old brother of one of the eight-year-old victims told him that she had been subjected to Gannon's indecent advances when at the Gannon house.

This is not a first-time offense for Gannon, who was arrested on similar charges in 1978 concerning acts performed with a relative.

He pled guilty to contributing to the sexual delinquency of a child at the time and the charges were reduced to misdemeanors. Gannon was sentenced to a year's supervised probation and told to go for psychological counseling by the presiding judge.

Arresting officer, Deputy Charles Fagan, said that Gannon told him he was guilty of the present charges and also said that Gannon claimed not to know why he did these things.

At his arraignment on June 21 he pled not guilty.

'Bell, Book, Candle' continues at On Cue

Mute the bell, close the book, snuff the candle to exorcise a witch, or so tradition has it. This recommendation is also the source for the title of the play now being performed by On Cue Productions at the Country House Dinner Theater.

"Bell, Book and Candle", written by John van Druten is a comedy, a fantasy and a love story all in one with heavy emphasis on the romantic comedy.

Gillian Holroyd (played by Lyn Kessie of Richmond) is a young and beautiful witch living in an apartment in New York. She has never questioned the value of her magic powers until she has used them to enthrall book publisher Shepherd Henderson (played by Tim Holt of Wildwood) to get even with an old college enemy who is now his fiancée.

The complications arise when Gillian discovers herself really falling in love.

A manic brother Nicky (played by Bruce Stamm of Antioch), a pixilated Aunt Queeny (played by Anne Marie Cina of McHenry) and Sidney Redlitch, a drunken author of books on magic (played by Don Crop of Mundelein) assure that the course of love, true or otherwise, will never run smooth.

This show, directed by Lou Jones of Round Lake (he also directed On Cue Productions' recent presentation of Neil Simon's "Chapter Two"), will be performed on successive weekends through July 18, Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday matinees at The Country House just west of Rte. 59 on Rte. 173. For times and other reservation information call (312) 395-4211.

News/OPINION

The Antioch News welcomes letters to the editor. Letters should be on topics of general interest, approximately 150 words or less and be signed with home address and telephone number. Guest editorials

Letter To Editor

Proud of Band Editor:

I am replying in regards to the Antioch Community High School, which has been the topic of several letters to the editor.

In the past four years, I have attended every event that the Antioch High School band has presented. This does not include just parades, but also Christmas concerts, spring concerts, variety shows, half-time shows, the many marching band competitions, band-orama, graduation ceremonies, award banquets and basketball games.

In viewing the participation in all of these many events, the talent in each and every one of the kids never ceases to amaze me. Their hard work, dedication, and enthusiasm can be matched by none.

That is the very purpose of this letter. I personally would like to extend my appreciation to the students of the band program and to tell them that they are doing a super job; not only musically, but as representatives of the Antioch Community High School and of the town of Antioch as well.

In regards to the playing of patriotic songs, the band takes it one step further, they represent the very meaning of patriotism. To watch those kids work and perform will restore one's faith in the future of our nation knowing that this generation will lead it.

This is why it hurts me so to see such criticism of the band being printed in our local newspapers. This type of criticism does nothing but discourage the students in the band program. The hours they put in are long and gruelling and they deserve words of encouragement and praise instead.

Before one passes judgement on any one aspect of the band program, I believe that one should be knowledgeable of the total music program.

Therefore, I would personally like to extend an invitation to Mrs. Laura M. Young of Antioch, Ill. to come and watch the band perform at a variety of events. If at that time Mrs. Young has any complaints, she may express them in a constructive manner to the director of the band, John S. Olisar.

I am extremely proud, not only of the members of the Antioch Community High School Band, but also of their director.

"The Band's Biggest Fan"
Mrs. John S. Olisar

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

I love summertime in Antioch, there are so many lovely activities.

We have the old fashioned Fourth of July parade and the crowning of the new Miss Antioch coming-up next Sunday. Then the Arts and Crafts Fair is moving to Williams Park on July 11.

It will be so much nicer there under the shade of the trees. Old Annie Mae practically expired on the hot cement in the municipal parking lot downtown the last two years.

Then it's Maxwell St. Days and all those wonderful bargains at the end of July and the Lions Bar-B-Que in August.

Speaking of fun activities, Felter's Subdivision residents will hold their annual picnic from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., on Saturday, July 3, at the subdivision park.

Rain-date is set for Sunday, July 4. Everybody is welcome to join in on all the good food, and try for prizes to be awarded the winners of the many games and races.

There will even be a country western band to add to the gaiety.

Daniel P. Johnson, son of Frank and Louise Johnson, an infantryman previously assigned to Ft. Benning, Ga., has arrived for duty in West Berlin.

Congrats to Irene Gross, who was one of the blue ribbon winners at the Regional Town and Country Amateur Art Show, held on June 12 in St. Charles.

Irene has been invited to exhibit her pencil drawing in the State Town and Country Show which will be held in Champaign-Urbana from Oct. 27 to Nov. 6.

More congrats, this time to Tami Beck who was on the deans' list at Illinois Wesleyan University for the second semester.

I hear that the Antioch Police might have a lead in the vandalism of the Hiram Buttrick Sawmill. It's a real shame that some people will abuse and deface public property, especially a place as pretty as the sawmill.

I heard that it was a swinging night down at the Antioch American Legion Hall, on June 19, when John and Lorraine DeBoer celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with 100 friends and relatives.

Charles and Elsie Hoekstra and Wayne Miller were the party-givers. Since their anniversary isn't really until June 29, John and Lorraine can celebrate all over again this weekend.

Toss shredded cabbage, diced, unpeeled apple and chopped salted peanuts for a crunchy salad. Top with dressing of peanut butter, honey and mayonnaise.

Ask Dr. Sven

THE DENTIST AS DETECTIVE

Q: In a murder mystery I read, a victim was identified by his teeth. Can a dentist really do that?

A: We usually think of the dentist as a professional treating patients in an office. However, dentists have a variety of skills which can be useful to law enforcement agencies. One who uses these skills is called a forensic odontologist. Dental records are often used in identification of bodies — even when the bodies are badly decomposed. Why? Because teeth are the hardest tissues in the human body, and because most people have a dentist with detailed individual records of their mouths. Dentists are usually called in after tragedies such as airplane crashes to aid in identification of victims. Even when no dental records are available, an examination of the mouth can tell us a good deal about an otherwise unidentifiable body. Analysis of bite marks has also become a source of legal evidence, particularly in homicide and child abuse investigations.
